

Narkis Street Congregation's Bible Readings for 2012-2013 (5773)

העדה ברחוב נרקיס
פרשת השבוע תשע"ג

Every Shabbat morning, the Narkis Street Congregation in Jerusalem meets together for study, fellowship, and worship. During our service we read in Hebrew from the weekly Torah portion (Parashat HaShavua), accompanied by a passage from the Prophets (the Haftarah). Such a tradition was observed by Jesus and his early followers (Luke 4:17, Acts 13:15, 17:2; see Mishnah Megillah 4.1-2; at that time as a triennial cycle) and continues to be a part of contemporary Jewish practice.

At Narkis Street Congregation, we have added New Testament readings which comment on the Hebrew Bible portions, as well as an annual reading of the Gospels and Acts. We have included Christian holy days to celebrate the Messiah, our spiritual center. Eastern Christian dates are placed in parentheses in the left-hand column. Both Ashkenazi and Sephardic Haftarah versions are included, the latter in parentheses if different. May the Scriptures be alive to us today, even as they were in ancient days. May God's word be read, heard, and obeyed—captured in the phrase from Ex 24:7—נעשה ונשמע.

How to use this sheet: To follow along with the weekly Readings, one would finish reading the passages listed on the date given. For example, the Torah portion for Oct 20 is נח-Noah from Gen 6:9-11:32, so one would begin with the Readings on Sunday, Oct 14 and complete all these Readings by Oct 20, the day נח-Noah is read in the synagogue. Holiday readings are listed in grey.
